SCHOOL NEWS

By Eleanor Pepper, Isabel Ingleson and Lily Pepper (6M)

With lots of building work happening around school, we decided to investigate what has been happening...

We spoke to some members of staff around school to get the low down.

Ms Harbrow:

Ms Harbrow is going to be getting her own office back. She is very excited to be moved where Reception classes used to be and she will also be able to hear all meetings since her office is going to be right next to a big meeting room. She is also being moved next to the office so she can greet visitors as there will be a new visitor entrance. She will get an office about the same size as her old one and her old office is now a Reception storage cupboard!

Mrs Burdekin:

Mrs Burdekin will be getting her own office next to the actual office, which will be next to the new visitor entrance. She is very excited because she is going to get a bigger office (only by a bit). She will be where the books used to be in RBE. Her old office is going to be Mrs Elders' and Mrs Bowman's desk space.

The office:

This is going to be where the Reception role-play corner was and in front of that will be the visitor entrance. The staff will have a lot more space and Ms Murphy hopes she has more space so she can keep organised.

Did you know?

That the old Reception toilets are being turned into a hallway to Y3, so if they are late they can go down the hall instead of disturbing everyone in worship.

It should be finished by June hopefully!

Reception:

The Receptions classrooms are both bigger and they have their own new toilets. They also have flower shaped tables and butterfly shaped holes in the back of their chairs. The teachers have a lot more room as well because in the old Reception classrooms they did not have storage cupboards to keep anything in.

Did you know?

Reception have a ramp leading from the Reception playground to the new cloakroom.

Welcome to our fourteenth edition of the Trinity Times, written and produced by Year 5 and 6. Inside you will find lots of interesting news from around school; puzzles, articles and reviews! If you have any suggestions for the next edition, or would like to join the team, please see Mrs Casling, Mr Wilkinson or Mr Englefield. Happy reading and Happy Easter!

Robinwood

On Wednesday 8th February—Friday 10th February, Year Five travelled to RobinWood Outdoor Activity Centre, near Todmorden, for a two night residential visit.

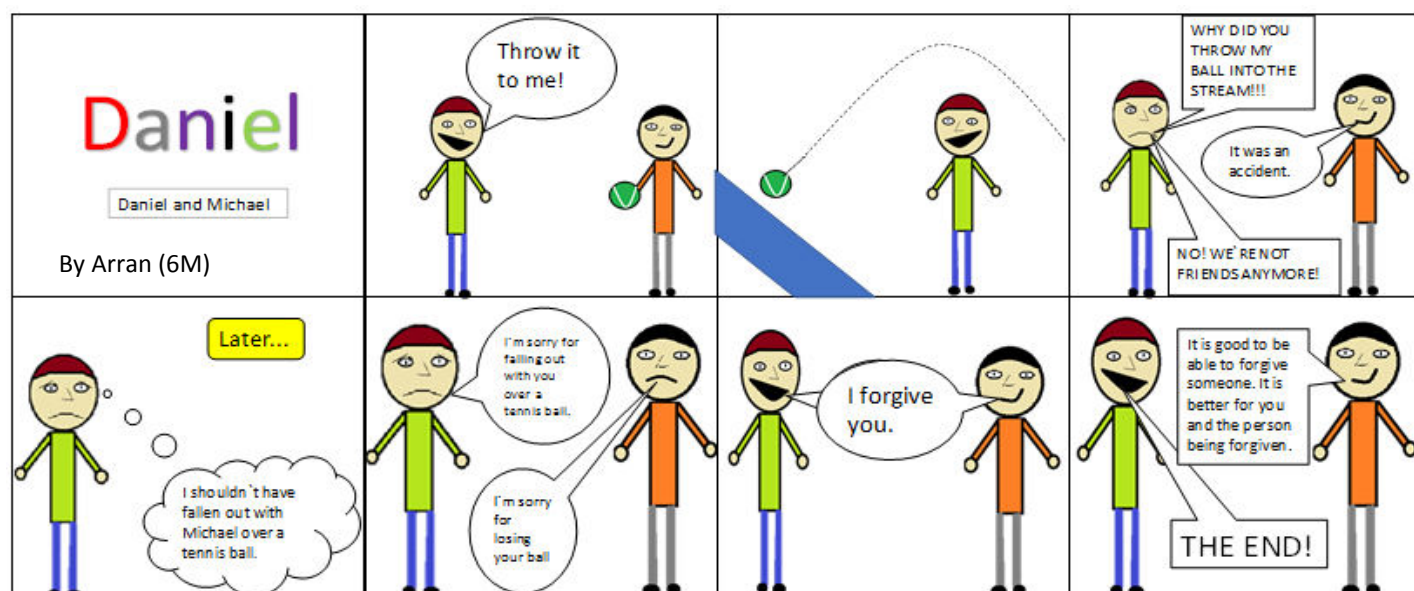

All the children and staff boarded the coach at 9:30am for the hour and a half journey to the centre. There was lots of excited chatter on the coach and the children were having fun too! There was even a guess at the arrival time and a bit of friendly competition between the staff, which resulted in Mr. Osborn performing a wonderful curtsy as he left the coach!

On arrival at the destination we prepared for a walk up a VERY STEEP hill to Dobroyd Castle. Extremely out of breathe and ready for lunch, we were taken to our dorm rooms and told to pack our kit bags ready for our activities and make our beds. After a lunch of sandwiches and crisps, we were ready to begin our first activity, which ranged from Giant Swing to Crate Challenge. After three exhilarating, exciting and exhausting activities we had a terrific tea.

Bellies full and ready to go again, we had another adventure including pretending to be Robin Hood at archery or scaling the dizzying heights of the climbing wall.

The day was still not over as we had to take on the other groups and the staff in Team Challenge to earn 'Orbs of Awesomeness.' Soon everyone realised that it was almost time for bed, a quick cup of hot chocolate and a biscuit then back to dorms for a quick chat and lights outs. What a great trip!

COOKERY PAGE

Welcome! Today I'm going to teach you how to make my: Yummy, scrummy, chocolate, Easter nests!

You will need:

100g of corn flakes
250g of your favourite chocolate
As many mini eggs as desired
Boiling water

Equipment:

1 bowl
1 wooden spoon
Bun cases

Into the bowl, put your favourite chocolate - not using the mini eggs though. After about 10-15 minutes the chocolate should've melted but if it has not, don't worry, just leave it a little longer! Once melted, it is time to add the yummy corn flakes! Now, just mix it until all the corn flakes are covered in chocolate. Get the bun cases and put the delicious mixture into them. Now it is mini egg time!

Next, place as many mini eggs as desired into the centre of the nests to form a bird's nest! Finally, put them in the fridge overnight so they set!

I hope you enjoy this recipe! By Amy Wood 5C ☺

Recipe

First, get the pan and get a grown up to help you boil some water. Next, you will need to carefully pour the water into the pan. You will not need a lot of water though! Now, you need to place the bowl into the pan, making sure that the bowl doesn't touch the water!

For any more details just find me at break or lunch time

Things to Make and Do at Easter by Faye Dawson (6C)

Easter is a great time of year to give inexpensive presents to other people. Not everyone likes eating too much chocolate at Easter, so why not make some small Easter buns as a gift and pop them in an egg box for added cuteness?

If you won't see your family over Easter, you could send them an Easter card.

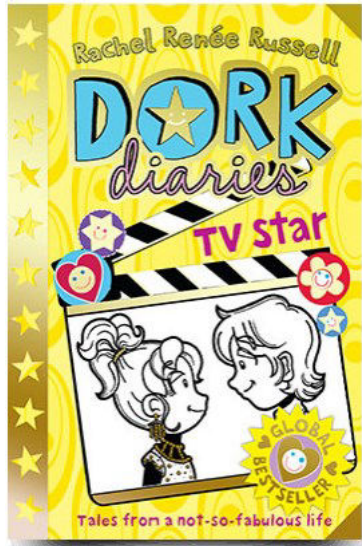

If you want to make a small gift for a friend, why not try these jam jar ideas?

Here is a great idea for an egg hunt with a twist! Why not wait until dark to search for your eggs? You could look inside the house or outside in the garden... These eggs have glow sticks in them instead of chocolates, but I bet they're more fun to find!

Book Review

By Eleanor Pepper (6M)

Hi guys, today I reviewing 'Dork Diaries TV star' by Rachel Renee Russell. This book is in a series of dork diaries which all include the main character, Nikki Maxwell. Nikki Maxwell is a dork [clue in the name of the book] but she likes a boy called Brandon. Now Brandon is also liked by Nikki's worst enemy, Mackenzie Hollister. Mackenzie is a lip-gloss loving diva who loves to try and ruin Nikki's life; when Nikki gets an unsuspected call from Trevor chase, a TV record dealer, her band is really excited and Mackenzie doesn't like Nikki getting all the attention. Mackenzie then pretends to be Nikki and Mackenzie's friends try to be Nikki's best friends, Chloe and Zoë. Basically Mackenzie has a grudge against Nikki which in other books seems to not work out well. Anyway, in this book Nikki gets her own TV show and gets followed around by her own camera crew; all of the CPPs [cute, cool, popular] people get jealous. But now that she has her own TV show, it means she doesn't have much time for her friends, like Brandon, so she has friendship drama with them, ending up in lots of confusion and embarrassment!!! .....

But I can't say anymore so if you want to read this book then you can either buy it or borrow it from the library.

About the author

Rachel Renee Russell is an author from America. She was born on the 13th march 1959. She has two daughters, the older one who is called Erin helps out with writing and planning and the younger daughter is the real inspiration for the main character. Her name is Nikki Maxwell as well! She helps out with Nikki and Brianna's drawings. Rachel was the oldest of five and was born in Saint Joseph, Michigan. She recently started writing a new series about Max Crumbly who knows Nikki and Brandon. Rachel is a lawyer and a writer which has made her extremely successful.

Leeds Book Awards

By Isabel Ingleson (6M)

Six lucky Year 6's have been chosen to be part of the Leeds book Awards and they have to read 6 books in the space of 12 weeks. The minimum amount of pages in each book is about 200.

In May, the 6 children and Mrs Casling will be going to Pudsey Civic Hall for the awards ceremony. We each get our own individual vote on the book we liked best, and we will get to meet the authors. In order so far, the top books are:

Murder in midwinter= 3; Max Helsing =0; Beetle boy=1, Library of lemons=1; Invisible INC=0; Cog heart = 0

Mrs Casling (6C teacher) is helping the Year six pupils who are:

6C		6M	The Books
Jen B	Faye D	Isabel I	Max Helsing Monster Hunter	Cog Heart
Kaela B	Rhys C	Lily P	Invisible INC.	Library of Lemons
			Murder in Midwinter	Beetle Boy

Mrs Casling says: "I'm really impressed with the book group and how well they are coping with reading all the books and discussing their reading. I didn't enjoy 'Cogheart', although some of the group did, but we all now have new favourites. I loved 'Library of Lemons' as it brought a tear to my eye, but I am currently reading 'Murder in Midwinter' which is a great page turner..."

A short story by Lily Pepper Into the Woods

Dear reader, if you like stories about happy bunnies and jolly elves - I suggest you rip this page of the newspaper out. This story is about one unfortunate girl who met something peculiar. This particular story starts on a sunny Easter morning where two girls are eating their chocolate eggs and getting it everywhere except in their mouths. Their step-mother, a strict woman who was the sort who would probably try and poison them with an orange, was sat in the corner and was glowering at the girls who were making a mess of the room with tinfoil and chocolate.

"Thank you Daddy!" one of the girls said, as her dad gave her a huge Barbie egg. The girl was three and her sister was 11. "Now Alice," their dad said, talking to the 11 year old, "go and get your friends for the Easter egg hunt. And come straight back or the Easter Bunny won't have laid out all of your eggs for the hunt." Alice agreed and 15 minutes later she came back with 10 girls who had baskets shaped like chickens, bunnies, lambs and ducklings.

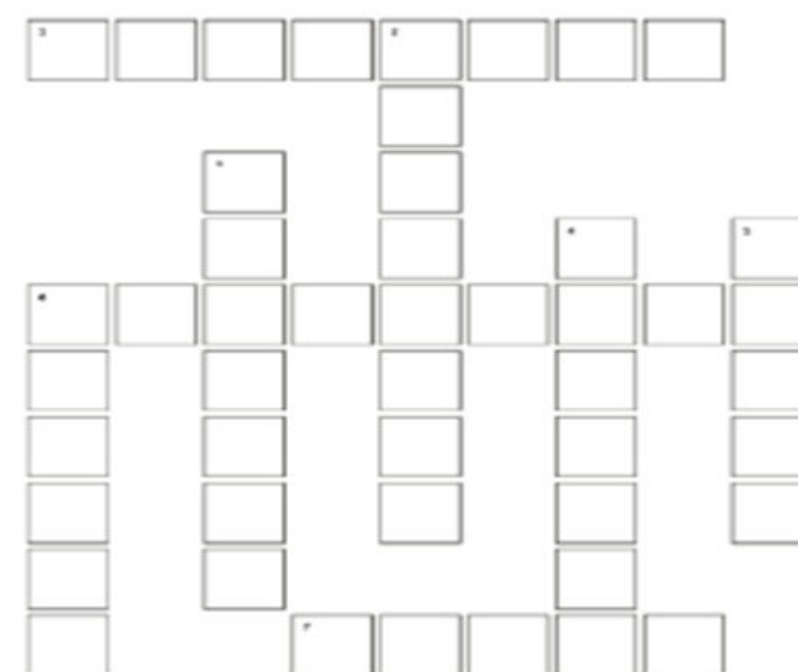

The cluster of girls then walked over to the woods. Folk in the town had said it was enchanted and that if you went in, you wouldn't live to the year 1900. For it was 1897 and Queen Victoria was in rule. Alice and Ella's (that was her sister's name) father had dropped them off about a mile before the woods. Alice, as she was the oldest, set off into the woods first, then cautiously and carefully other girls followed.

The trees in the woods were purple and brown. They seemed to glimmer in the blocked out sun. Their pink and blue shoes squelching loudly in the mud, caused a few of the younger girls to laugh. They walked and walked for the next hour, searching for any sign of an Easter egg. But there was none. None. Not one at all. "Maybe the Easter Bunny wasn't real after all," Alice thought to herself, pulling her purple cardigan further up her shoulders. Then they heard a loud roar and a rustle between the bushes nearby. A huge monster came out. He had massive claws and a vast green body. The girls screamed and ran, bumping into a tall man with a wand. The man wore a long cape and seemed to have huge ears. The man objected fiercely to the monster. "Not him again!" he muttered and said, "Follow me."

Time to vote...

Just like in the Fiction Express stories, you get to decide what happens next... just tell Lily in 6M which option you want to read:

What should the girls do? A) Trust the stranger b) Fight the monster c) Run away again
