

Section 1

Add the missing verbs to these sentences so that they are grammatically correct.

At the cinema, my family and I _____ watching a movie in 3D. I _____ a pair of 3D glasses.

Section 2

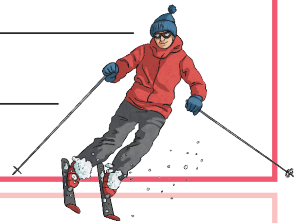

Can you write a possessive apostrophe sentence about the armour that belongs to the knight?

Section 3

Up-level this sentence by changing the verb, adding an adjective and a fronted adverbial.

The skier went down the mountain face.

Section 4

Mr Whoops has got in a terrible muddle with his silent 'gh' words. Can you help him to match each definition with the correct word?

Mischievous = n _____

Zero = n _____

Past tense of teach = t _____

Section 5

determiner	pronoun

she three many their

Add another word to each column.

Section 6

Rewrite this sentence and add a subordinate clause:

The hotel receptionist greeted them with a smile.

Year 4 Autumn Term 2 SPaG Mat Answers ⑤

Section 1

Add the missing verbs to these sentences so that they are grammatically correct.

At the cinema, my family and I were/are watching a movie in 3D. I wore/am wearing a pair of 3D glasses.

Section 2

Can you write a possessive apostrophe sentence about the armour that belongs to the knight?

Accept any singular possessive apostrophe sentence, e.g. The knight's armour protected his body during battle.

Section 3

Up-level this sentence by changing the verb, adding an adjective and a fronted adverbial.

The skier went down the mountain face.

Accept any sentence with a more ambitious verb, added adjective and fronted adverbial, e.g. In the Winter Olympics, the brave skier zoomed down the mountain face.

Section 4

Mr Whoops has got in a terrible muddle with his silent 'gh' words. Can you help him to match each definition with the correct word?

Mischievous = naughty

Zero = nought

Past tense of teach = taught

Section 5

Sort these words into the table:

determiner	pronoun
three	she
many	their

Add another word to each column.

Accept any determiners and pronouns added to the correct column.

Section 6

Rewrite this sentence and add a subordinate clause.

The hotel receptionist greeted them with a smile.

Accept any correctly-punctuated sentence with a subordinate clause either before or after the main clause, e.g. When the family arrived, the hotel receptionist greeted them with a smile. OR The hotel receptionist greeted them with a smile when the family arrived.