Escape the Dentist Chair

“Good morning,” says the dentist briskly walking into the room towards the computer. She clicks to reveal an x-ray on the screen. “Oh dear,” she frowns. “You’ve not been brushing properly have you? I’m afraid two of these teeth are beyond repair and they’ll have to come out.”

You feel confused. Your teeth are in great condition. The dentist approaches you with a large black mask. You start to speak but the dentist interrupts. “Try not to worry. It’s a very simple procedure,” she reassures you as she puts the mask over your face.

You start to feel drowsy. Suddenly, you hear a knock before the dentist says, “Please excuse me. I have an urgent phone call. I’ll be back in a few moments.”

You look around and see a keypad. Maybe, if you enter a code, you’ll be able to turn off the gas and tell the dentist not to extract your teeth. Solve the clues and puzzles to discover the keypad code and escape the dentist chair.
