Why do you think Scrooge is most frightened of the final spirit?

"These chains are a punishment for my selfish life," said the ghost. "There are some waiting for you, too, and getting heavier every day."

But you were so good at business!

My only business should have been taking care of others.

He doesn't want to be happy when he dies, he wants people to miss him.

He wants a chance to help Bob's family so Tiny Tim doesn't die.

He learnt what it feels to be sad and to care about others.

Why do you think Scrooge wanted to change?

He doesn't want to die alone.

He doesn't want people to steal his things when he dies.

He wants a chance to help people.

He doesn't want to have the chains like Marley.
